

How are new partnerships proposed?

Monday, 20 August 2007 - Last Updated Wednesday, 14 January 2009

Partnerships can be initiated in two ways.

- GPO may contact libraries and Federal agencies to inquire about partnering on a project.
- Libraries and Federal agencies may contact GPO to indicate a desire to form a partnership.

To begin discussing a potential partnership, please contact the FDLP partnership coordinator.

Following initial discussions about a potential partnership, GPO may ask the interested institution to complete the Partnership Proposal Form. This form will provide GPO with detailed information about the potential partnership that will be used when evaluating GPO's ability to participate in the project.
